TOWN TICKETS MADE PUBLIC

Republican Municipal Ticket is Full With Few Exceptions.

FEW DEMOCRATS FILE

Three Candidates Seek Offices on Both Tickets in Each of the Three Wards. One Justice of the Peace.

Republican and Democratic candidates filing nominating petitions with the county commissioners for municipal offices in the government of the borough of Gettysburg, subject to the approval or disapproval of voters at the fall primaries, were made public today.

With only a few exceptions the Republican municipal ticket is complete, while the Democratic list shows little effort was made to place a full ticket in the field and a number of offices will appear on the ballots without the names of candidates.

On the Republican ticket the only offices for which no candidates filed nominating papers are inspector of elections in the Third Ward; one town councilman in this ward, and one justice of the peace, voted on in all wards, for which office the law calls for two candidates on both major political parties.

On the First Ward Democratic ticket, nominating petitions were not filed for two justices of the peace, one auditor, one town councilman, one constable, one judge of elections and one inspector of elections.

The Second Ward Democratic ticket carries the same blanks as the First Ward and in addition offers no candidates for the two positions of councilmen. In the First Ward Wesley I. Oyler announced for one of the two councilmanic positions.

The Democratic ticket in the Third Ward is somewhat fuller than either the First or Second Ward list, John J. Thoman filing for inspector of elections; Charles A. Fox for constable, and Charles H. Hess for one of the two positions on the town council.

Three candidates filed nominating papers on both tickets in each of the three wards. They are George B. Aughinbaugh for high constable; John W. Brehm for school director for the two-year term and Allen B. Plank, school director for the six-year term. Both of the latter candidates are in office at the present time.

Following is a list of the Republican candidates, who filed from the First Ward: George B. Aughinbaugh, high constable; John W. Brehm and Frank Reaser, school director for two years; Allen B. Plank, school director for six years; John L. Hill, justice of the peace; Carl

SUN PARLOR IMPORTANT ADDITION TO HOSPITAL

Will be Included in Proposed Improvements From Fund Being Raised For Nurses' Home.

A sun parlor for convalescent patients of the Annie M. Warner Hospital will be part of the building program if the campaign now in progress throughout Adams county to raise a fund of $30,000 is successful, volunteer workers in the drive are emphasizing.

Other improvements of benefit to hospital patients are contemplated in addition to the erection of the private home for nurses in order to relieve the over-crowded condition of the present building, it is pointed out. The nurses are now required to occupy rooms in the hospital which will be converted into rooms for patients when the improvements are made.

Under the present plans, the large sun parlor, which physicians say is urgently needed at the hospital, is to be built as a connecting link between the present building and the proposed new building.

UNION SERVICES

Biglerville churches will unite Sunday in union services which will be held at 7:30 o'clock in the evening at the Chautauqua tent. Rev. Dr. S. W. Herman, pastor of Zion Lutheran Church, Harrisburg, will preach at the service.

FARM WEATHER REPORT

For Eastern Pennsylvania: Saturday fair. Gentle variable winds becoming southwest. Slightly warmer in west portion.

ONE fine style Starr Victrola and two Columbia Grafonolas, slightly used. Elegant condition and will be sold very cheap. Easy terms. Oyler Music Store, Biglerville, Pa., next to Post Office. Branch Store. adv. 1.

Nurses' Home Drive Takes Part of Tortoise in Race For $30,000

"Slow, But Sure" is Manner in Which Campaign Officials Characterize Progress. Failure of Many Workers to Report Amount of Money Received From Districts.

"Slow, but sure" is the phrase that might be used in designating the manner in which the campaign to raise $30,000 for a nurses' home and improvements at the Annie M. Warner County Hospital is going, as it entered the fifth day.

Those in charge of the drive today said many of the workers and team captains are known to have donations in their possession of which no record has yet been made. All such persons are urged by those directing the campaign to make reports promptly so that proper credit can be given the various teams in Gettysburg and elsewhere in the county.

Many banks and industries in the county have not yet contributed to the campaign, it was announced today, but action in this direction is expected within the next few days. Most banks, it is pointed out, are waiting for directors' meetings, most of which will be held next Tuesday. Some of the leading industrial plants in the county have contributed generously to the drive, but no returns have been received from the large majority.

Officials in charge of the drive are withholding for the present figures on the amount subscribed to date, since it is understood that many of the team workers have not yet reported to their captains and some of these have not yet made their returns to headquarters. Any total given out now would not represent the total subscribed to date, it is pointed out.

The cause of the nurses' home campaign will be taken before the audiences at the Biglerville, New Oxford and Littlestown Chautauquas.

Flying squadrons will be organized to resolicit throughout the county from those persons whose cards have been returned to headquarters and marked refusal, for any reason except inability to give.

Charles H. Smith, Broadway, one of the hospital directors, acting general chairman of the campaign, during the absence of John D. Keith, Esq., Lincoln avenue, again broadcast an appeal for persons missed by solicitors either in Gettysburg or in the county to send their subscriptions to campaign headquarters where proper credit will be given and a receipt forwarded.

PLAY EXHIBITION GAME FOR EMANUEL

Reports Say Former College Athlete Has Lost Sight of One Eye.

For the benefit of Edward "Snaps" Emanuel, of Harrisburg, noted athlete of Gettysburg College and captain-elect of the football team this fall, a baseball game will be played on the Island diamond, Harrisburg, Saturday afternoon, beginning at 3:30 o'clock.

According to latest reports from the Capitol City, "Snaps" has completely lost the sight of his left eye, as a result of being hit in the face with a pitched ball almost two months ago. He was playing with the Harrisburg Motive Power team at Elizabethtown when the mishap occurred, after the game had been stretched into twilight.

Emanuel was in the Harrisburg Hospital for several weeks and when discharged doctors were optimistic that the sight of the eye could be saved.

Reports from Harrisburg also carry news that it is doubtful if the former Technical high school star will be able to play football or indulge in any other sports at College this year. Emanuel already has won his G for football, baseball, basketball and track.

Eddie Plank, erstwhile Athletic pitcher, when informed of the plight of "Snaps", at once volunteered to pitch in the exhibition game on Saturday, all the proceeds of which are to be turned over the disabled athlete. Eddie will start on the mound for an All-Scholastic nine which will play the Motive Power club, of which Emanuel was a member. A number of former Gettysburg College baseball players, residing in or near Harrisburg, have also volunteered to play on the All-Scholastic nine, including Lewis Sheffer, William Sheffer, "Red" Zimmerman and others.

MANY ATTEND FUNERAL OF JACOB M. APPLER

Seven Sons of Deceased Justice Serve As Active Pallbearers.

Largely attended funeral services were held this afternoon at 2 o'clock from his late home for Jacob A. Appler, justice of the peace and prominent resident of Gettysburg, who died Tuesday morning, aged 67 years. Services were in charge of the Rev. Samuel Beck, of Littlestown, assisted by the Rev. N. L. Horn, pastor of Trinity Reformed church here. Interment was made in Evergreen Cemetery.

Seven sons of the deceased acted as active pallbearers. They were Joseph U., Gettysburg; A. Ross, Hanover; Guy M., Altoona; Isaac Ray, Stewart, Illinois; John O., Ridgefield Park, New Jersey; Willis, Lemoyne, and Evan M., of Gettysburg.

The following acted as honorary pallbearers: Hon. S. McC. Swope, Charles S. Duncan, Esq., J. L. Williams, Esq., C. B. Dougherty, Charles J. Toot and Charles W. Gardner.

RUM RUNNING IS SHRINKING HERE

Vigilance of State Police Nets Eleven Alleged Offenders During Summer.

Rum runners are keeping out of Adams county following the vigilance of the local troop of State Police, who during the summer months have made numerous arrests of alleged violators of the State enforcement act and the Eighteenth amendment.

Early in the summer, several arrests were made which threw light on the importation of moonshine whiskey into Gettysburg and Adams county and since then the police have redoubled their efforts to stem what appeared to be a rising tide of illicit liquor, until those close to the situation now say that neither good nor bad whiskey can be purchased in Gettysburg, except at drug stores on prescriptions.

Eleven alleged violators of the dry laws are listed for the regular term of quarter sessions court which begins next Monday. Most of these alleged offenders were arrested for the illegal transportation of beverages containing more than the legal limit into Gettysburg or Adams county. Since their apprehension, there has been a noticeable falling off of high-voltage beverages on sale in town. Grocery stores, restaurants and other places of business which sold near beer have discontinued the practice, fearing the consequences of a raid by State Police.

The last arrest of alleged offenders of the dry acts was over a month ago and since then rum running in Gettysburg and Adams county seems to have ceased altogether or at least reached a minimum. The Lincoln High-

BURY JOSEPH M. BUSHMAN

Funeral services, conducted by members of the Gettysburg Commandery, No. 79, Knights Templar, were held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock from his late home for Joseph M. Bushman, prominent resident of Gettysburg, who died Tuesday afternoon. The services were in charge of the Rev. Harry Daniels, chaplain of the local Commandery. A number of the Knights Templar attended the funeral in the uniforms of that order. Interment was made in Evergreen Cemetery.

Pallbearers, all Knights Templar, were Penrose Myers, Robert G. Blocher, Ivan G. Naugle, Luther C. Deatrick, Radford G. Lippy and Martin H. Klinefelter.

HOLD FORTY HOURS'

Forty Hours' Devotion, in honor of the period Christ's dead body lay in the tomb, while His soul conversed with the spirits who were in prison, begins at the Old Jesuit Mission, Buchanan Valley, next Sunday morning, August 26. The Sunday morning services are at 8 and 10:30. The evening at 7:30. Monday and Tuesday morning the Masses are at 6 and 8, while the evening services begin at 8. Special sermons will be delivered by visiting priests.

DON'T forget the Aspers Community Picnic at Boiling Springs, Saturday, 25th. Come and bring your friends. adv. 1.

SUN IS LOAFING ON ITS JOB AGAIN

Recent Freakish Weather Starts Investigation on Part of Weather Bureau.

"Has the sun really gone on a strike?"

This freak weather, requiring overcoats in August, has aroused the above question in the minds of government scientists in the weather bureau in Washington, where the vagaries of the thermometer have aroused even their interest.

It is true, says the department, that the intensity of the sun's rays has diminished within the last few months, as was asserted some time ago by Dr. C. Abbott, of the Smithsonia Institute, who figured the loss of heat as three or four per cent.

Whether this is due to an actual decrease in the intensity of the sun's rays themselves or whether it is the result of a greater absorption of the sun's heat by the atmosphere of the earth is still undetermined and the bureau experts are trying to learn.

Predicts Summerless Year

Doctor Abbott has gone to the huge observatory at Mount Wilson, California. It is hoped that he will settle the question and explain a few things when he comes down.

Herbert J. Browne, a Washington meteorologist, who has watched the stunts of the sun for some years, pictures a dark future. He says the country, in about 1926 or 1927, will see a repetition of the year 1816, "the year without a summer."

"Old-timers" of Gettysburg declare that all previous records for August were broken when the instruments of Colonel E. B. Cope, Baltimore street, recorded a temperature as low as 75 degrees for the maximum on Thursday, preceded by chilly breezes of 44 degrees on the preceding night. The mercury on Thursday night again dropped like a plummet until it reached a minimum of 46, and rose but slowly today.

The weather bureau asserts, however, that a warmer area is on its way here from the West, and may be felt here within or or two days at the most.

STANDARD GRADES ARE CONSIDERED

Fruit, Potato and Wheat Growers Will Discuss Grading Standards.

Standard grades for apples, potatoes and soft winter wheat will be considered for final adoption by Pennsylvania growers and marketing officials of the State Department of Agriculture at a hearing to be held in Harrisburg on Tuesday, August 28, in the department offices.

The grades proposed as standards for these three commodities in Pennsylvania are similar to or identical with grades now in effect in other states and in interstate commerce, Various farmers' and growers' cooperative associations have found them espeically valuable in marketing products in standardized form.

The wheat grades to be considered are those that are observed in all interstate commerce at the present time through an act of Congress. They have been adopted by the leading grain exchanges. The United States potato grades, accepted as standard for the entire country, will be discussed and may be adopted as the definite standards for Pennsylvania.

The grades suggested for apples will be those that were placed on trial by Pennsylvania Bureau of Markets last year. Their tenative use by apple shipping organizations during the past year has made it possible to decide on the best grades for use in Pennsylvania and other Middle Atlantic states. The grades were revised last spring and were approved by a committee representing fruit growers' organizations in Pennsylvania, Maryland, Virginia and West Virginia.

A large number of Pennsylvania producers have expressed a desire to see definite grades established, the use of the grades to be optional, but when grade terms are employed the product to conform to requirements for the grade specified. The interest attached to the final hearing next Tuesday indicates a representative turnout of the wheat, potato and apple growers of the state.

SALVATION SEEN IN HOME TALENT

Solution of Grave Farm Problem is Believed To Be Found.

MEANS COMMUNITY SPIRIT

Example of Western Rural Population is Being Carried Out in Adjoining County With Enthusiasm.

Problems of "How to Keep the Young People on the Farm" which have aroused so many farmers and agriculturists the country over, and which proves as much of a problem in Adams county as elsewhere, according to reports, will be demonstrated at the Franklin county fair this year, dispatches indicate.

Many ideas of interest and value to agriculturalists have come from North Dakota, and it is from that state that the novel demonstration of a way to foster community spirit on a modern basis has come. North Dakota is a prairie state as fertile as the Valley of the Nile. It is the bread basket of the world. Seven out of every eight people in it are classed as rural. Art, science, government are adapted there to meet the needs of the farmers. And from there should come the Non-Partisan League, the fight against the black rust and the highest example of community recreation in the country.

Improved farm machinery, labor saving devices for the home and the automobile eliminated much of the drudgery and isolation of these North Dakota farmers. At the same time they opened up the whole problem of leisure time and the loneliness of the long winter evenings. It was Alfred Arvoid, of the North Dakota Agricultural College, who first faced the problem and found its solution, according to report.

He knew that the main thing in the country is the country folks, that it would be of no use to go on teaching better farming if country folks could not find content, self-expression, what the country boy who starts for the city chooses to call "life." He saw that they were sacrificing the country to build the city. He realized that moral degeneracy in the coun-

DR. KHARAS AGAIN IN TOILS OF LAW

Is Charged With Selling Stock Without Having Registered Under New Law.

Dr. Theodore Kharas, unfavorably remembered as being intimately connected with attempted organization of banking and shirt factory schemes in Adams county over a period of a number of years, who figured in a bigamy charge here in December, 1916, and numerous additional charges at other times, was arrested Wednesday in Rural Valley, Armstrong county, charged with violation of the State securities act, according to dispatches in today's newspapers.

On a recent trip to DuBois, chief investigator Einar Barford, of the securities bureau, sought Dr. Kharas who it is charged was offering stocks in several banks in western Pennsylvania without having first applied for registration as a securities dealer.

From Indiana Doctor Kharas sent a telegram to State Banking Secretary Cameron in which he is said to have declared he was a "law-abiding bank organizer who is working without pay."

Before the telegram reached the securities bureau Doctor Kharas had been arrested in Rural Valley, where he returned for the lost trunk. He is under $2500 bail for a hearing at that place on August 30.

The Kharas telegram to Secretary Cameron said:

"I have noticed by press reports that I am being sought with warrant by your deputy, but have not been able to locate him yet. Please advise him will attend bank meeting at Rochester Mills Wednesday evening. Question: If it takes your department twenty years to discover $1,000,000 theft in York City Bank and only two days to whitewash legislative investigation concerning same, how long will it take to locate a law-abiding bank organizer who is working without pay? Don't answer."

PHYSICIANS NAME DR. J. McC. DICKSON

Meeting in York Thursday Hears of Sleeping Sickness as Mystery Disease.

An address by Dr. A. C. Gillis, Professor of neurology at Maryland University, on the subject of "Encephalitis Lethargica," more commonly known as sleeping sickness, was the feature of the morning session of the convention of physicians from Adams, Franklin, Fulton, Cumberland and York counties, comprising the fourth censorial district of the State Medical Association, who held their annual meeting Thursday at the York Country Club. Dr. Henry Stewart, pathologist at the Warner Hospital here, presided. It was attended by about seventy-five physicians and surgeons from this part of the state. Most of the morning session was given over to routine business, the most important part of which was the election of officers to serve during the next year.

Among the new officers elected for the coming year was Dr. J. McCrea Dickson, of Gettysburg, named second vice-president. Other newly elected officers are Dr. Newton W. Hershner, Mechanicsburg, president; Dr. G. Emanuel Spotz, York, vice-president; Dr. Frank Emmert, Franklin county, third vice-president; Dr. Alexander Stewart, Cumberland county, fourth vice-president; Dr. John Mosser, Fulton county, fifth vice-president; Dr. W. Newton Long, York, secretary; Dr. Gibson Smith, York, treasurer.

Dr. Gillis, in his address during the morning session, on the subject of sleeping sickness, admitted that the disease has baffled the medical profession of this country as well as in Europe. He stated that thus far no definite cause for it has been found, although many forms and methods of treatment are in practice.

Next year's meeting will be held in Cumberland county.

At the conclusion of the session at 2 p. m., the physicians and a number of their wives who attended the meeting were served a dinner in the dining hall of the Country club.

RETIRED FARMER DIES

Peter Moritz Leaves 36 Grandchildren and 34 Great-Grandchildren.

Peter Moritz, retired farmer, died at his home in Highland township Thursday evening at 6:15 from a complication of diseases. He was aged 82 years, 10 months and 22 days.

He is survived by his wife and the following sons and daughters: Mrs. Harvey Cluck, Gettysburg; Mrs. William Rebert, Gettysburg; Mrs. William Slonaker, York; Charles Moritz, Ohio; Walter Moritz, Idaville; Harvey Moritz, of York; Jacob Moritz, Orrtanna; Clayton Moritz, Shiloh, Ohio; Mrs. William Stoops, Idaville, and Calvin Moritz, at home. Thirty-six grandchildren and thirty-four great-granchildren also survive.

Funeral services from his late home Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, conducted by the Rev. W. C. Pugh, of Fairfield. Interment at Flohr's church.

TAKE FISHING TRIP

William B. Fleming, Steinwehr avenue, and Samuel Hart, Water street, both of the Gettysburg State Highway office, in company with C. E. Cole, of York; S. E. Vance, of Carlisle, and W. A. VanDuzer, of Harrisburg, left today for Wallops Island, a short distance from the Virginia coast. Those in the party will be guests of Ralph Wilton, of Wrightsville, who has equipped the island as a summer home. Fishing is said to be exceptionally good in the vicinity of the place. Messrs. Fleming and Hart expect to return to Gettysburg Tuesday.

"SILENT COPS" LEAVE

The white cast iron "pimples" placed at the busiest intersections of main streets in Gettysburg several months ago were removed by order of the highway committee of the Gettysburg town council on Thursday afternoon. The "silent policemen" were found to be impracticable, it is said.

BLAMES FIRE ON BOOTLEGGERS

Is Confession of Boy Held For Destruction of Dry Preacher's House.

NARROWLY ESCAPE DEATH

Minister, Wife and Daughter Flee Burning Building For Their Lives; Boy Gets $2 For Job.

(By Associated Press.)

Pocomoke City, Md., Aug. 24.—Bootleggers inspired the firing of the home of Rev. J. R. Bicking here last Saturday night, according to the alleged confession of Marlin Wilkinson, 17, held on a charge of arson.

As a result of the boy's confession Elwood Bevans, 25, and William King, 15, were arrested last night.

The Rev. Mr. Bicking had been particularly active in denunciation of Volstead law violators. The boy in his alleged confession said that a bootlegger had hired him, King and another boy to set fire to the minister's launch several weeks ago. The boy received $2 for the task. The man, described by the boy as a bootlegger, returned last week, according to the confession, and threatened them with exposure if they refused to set fire to the parsonage. Terrified by the threat, Wilkinson said, he and his comrades consented to fire the building. The minister, his wife and daughter narrowly escaped death when the fire swept through the parsonage in which they were sleeping.

COAL MEN MAY WALK FLOOR ALONE

Government Agencies Are Preparing to Protect Anthracite Users, However.

(By Associated Press)

Washington, Aug. 24.—Preparations of government agencies to protect anthracite consumers from a fuel shortage next winter were moving at accelerated speed as the second shutdown of hard coal mines September 1 grew another day nearer with no move from either side in the dispute toward a renewal of negotiations.

There still was a lingering hope in official quarters, however, that such a movement would come. For that reason the coal commission was holding up its emergency report until the last minute in order that its conclusions might not work against the possibility of new overtures by either side.

"We are going to let the miners and operators walk the floor by themselves for a while," said Chairman Hammond of the Coal Commission.

PREMIER KATO DIES

(By Associated Press.)

Tokio, Aug. 24.—Premier Kato died this afternoon from a complication of maladies that weakened his heart. Admiral Baron Kato was born in 1859 and had a distinguished career in the naval, administrative and diplomatic services before he was elevated to the premiership last year.

It is understood that Foreign Minister Uchiga will act as premier until after the funeral. The entire cabinet will then resign and a new one will be chosen under whomever is appointed premier.

Premier Kato's illness was of long duration, but until recently it was not regarded as serious.

STOCK REPORT

Oils Sell Freely On Exchange; Pessimism Increases.

(By Associated Press.)

New York, Aug. 24.—Speculative apprehension over the maintenance of current dividends by some of the oil companies, coupled with a pessimistic view of the entire oil situation, was realized by bear traders today on the stock exchange when they sold the oil group freely. This weakness caused the general list to yield fractionally, but fresh buying orders at noon started the list upward again. Call money opened at 5 per cent.

MISS HARRIET BIESECKER

Miss Harriet Biesecker, formerly of McKnightstown, died at the Warner Hospital on Thursday. She was 79 years old and was a daughter of the late George and Anna Biesecker.

Brief funeral services Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rebert, near Seven Stars, with further services in the Reformed church at McKnightstown, conducted by the Rev. W. C. Pugh, of Fairfield. Interment at Flohr's.

TRACE SURGERY ON AN ANCIENT SKULL

Effort of Aborigine to Operate With Flint Knife Revealed.

New York.—Aug. 24.—Discovery of an ancient skull, bearing evidence of an effort by an aboriginal surgeon at cranial surgery in the era when man's keenest instrument was a flint knife, was announced Thursday by the American Museum of Natural History.

The skull, found at Mitten Rock, in the Navajo reservation of New Mexico, by an expedition headed by Earl H. Morris, famous explorer of Aztec ruins, had been extensively trephined, an oval section two inches long and an inch wide having been removed from the frontal bone immediately above the right eye.

The entire upper portion of the skull was knobbed and pitted, apparently from some disease from which a crude, long-dead surgeon had attempted to relieve the patient by a desperate operation. The work was neatly done, but, as the edges of the bone showed no evidence of healing, it is apparent that the patient did not long survive the operation.

Just how many centuries ago this first effort at advanced surgery by a southwestern aboriginal was attempted, the archaeologists have not determined. Mr. Morris reported, however, that the skull was that of a brachyephalic, or short-headed man. A people possessing these characteristics inhabited the San Juan valley before the development of the Pueblo cliff dwellers, and the cliff dwellers existed for centuries, if not thousands of years, before the discovery of America by Europeans.

WARMER, THEN COLDER

Weather Bureau Predicts Cool Wave Following Warmth.

(By Associated Press)

Washington, Aug. 24.—Winds flowing from an area of high pressure brought rising temperatures today to the northern section of the country but weather bureau reports indicated that another cool spell was due in that section before Sunday. The conditions, however, do not indicate as marked a cool snap as the one just passing.

REFUSES TO PLAY NATION'S ANTHEM

New York Conductor Says "Star-Spangled Banner" Is Gloomy.

HIS CONCERT CANCELLED

Song, He Contends, Has No Legal Status and is Too Stimulating to National Hatred.

New York, Aug. 24.—Denouncing the "Star Spangled Banner" as a gloomy song, too stimulating to national hatred to be sung generally, Harry Barnhart, conductor of the Summer Community Sings at Central Park Mall, refused flatly Thursday to submit to a Park Department order directing him to open his concerts with the anthem. As a result of his refusal Park Commissioner Gallatin cancelled the concert scheduled for Thursday night.

"If the anthem was good enough for our soldiers, it is good enough for Central Park," Commissioner Gallatin said. "There is a standing order that all concerts in city parks must begin with the 'Star Spangled Banner.' Barnhart, who is an able director, notified me he did not recognize the song as our National Anthem, and that he did not think it in keeping with his program."

Played During War

For the last eight years Barnhart, an American, has been directing community singing at the Mall. During the war the "Star Spangled Banner" always had a place on his program, but recently many among the hundreds who gather on the green to sing with his band noted that the anthem was only occasionally.

On the evening of August 16, a small group of singers berated the director because he objected to the "Star Spangled Banner" being included in a short song service in memory of President Harding, which included the President's favorite, "How Firm a Foundation." A man with an Irish brogue and wearing no coat started the disturbance. Finally, the conductor submitted and the anthem was sung.

Captain Frank A. Tierney, in charge of the police station in Central Park, notified Commissioner Gallatin of the disturbance. Commissioner Gallatin, in turn, wrote Mr. Barnhart, directing him to open all concerts by playing the "Star Spangled Banner."

Denies Official Status

"Francis Scott Key's song, 'The Star-Spangled Banner,' with all due deference to those who have been led to believe it is our national anthem, has no legal or official status whatever," said Mr. Barnhart. "The bill to legalize it, I am informed, was defeated in the last Congress. It is on the same basis legally as 'My Country, 'tis of Thee,' 'America' and the 'Battle Hymn of the Republic.' All of these have been sung regularly at our sings. The patriotic note has always been fostered by me and enjoyed by my audiences.

"During the late war, when one of my sons served overseas, I led sings in army camps, and in the past I have conducted 'The Star-Spangled Banner' hundreds of times. But this was when war and fighting were the program.

Serious Issue, He Says

"I consider this a serious issue which establishes the prerogative of any group to use the well-known battle song, 'The Star-Spangled Banner,' for putting over something which is other than a truly American ideal and for bolstering all sorts of propaganda."

"I shall not continue my concerts unless Commissioner Gallatin withdraws his order," he added.

TRANSLATES BIBLE INTO "AMERICAN"

New Testament is Put Into "Simple, Modern Language" by Chicago Professor.

Chicago, Aug. 24.—An American translation of the New Testament from the original Greek, done in a simple, modern English, intended to be understandable to the average American reader, has just been completed by Dr. Edgar J. Goodspeed, chairman of the New Testament department of the University of Chicago, it became known Thursday. Doctor Goodspeed devoted three and one-half years to the task.

Doctor Goodspeed explained that the New Testament was not written in classical Greek, nor the Biblical Greek of the Greek version of the Old Testament, nor even in the literary Greek of its day, but in the common language of everyday life, and that he, therefore, had sought to put his translation in the everyday language of American life.

His translation of the miracle of "feeding the multitude" expressed in simple, direct English, follows:

"The disciples said to Him,

" 'Where can we get bread enough in this solitude to feed such a crowd?'

"Jesus said to them,

" 'How many loaves have you?'

"They said,

" 'Seven, and few small fish.'

"Then He ordered the people to take their places on the ground, and He took the seven loaves and the fish and gave thanks and gave them to His disciples, and the disciples gave them to the people. And they all ate and satisfied their hunger. And the pieces that they left that were picked up filled seven baskets. There were 4000 men that were fed, besides women and children. And he dismissed the people and got into the boat and went to the district of Magadan."

"I have undertaken to determine what each writer of the New Testament meant to say," he continued, "and then I have tried to express this in the simplest and most vigorous modern English. In other words, in English of the same kind as the Greek of the original. We have particularly had in mind the American reader, and tried to eliminate British forms of expression like 'steward' and 'husbandman' and to use instead words intelligible to the American ear."

SEEK MAN FOR MURDER

Secret Admirer Believed Responsible For Child Bride's Death.

(By Associated Press.)

Colorado Springs, Aug. 24.—A crumpled packet of five letters said to contain evidence of the unknown assailant who killed Mrs. Elsie Suttle here yesterday is believed to have been the cause of the attack which ended in the death of the seventeen-year-old bride of a month, according to police.

A man called "Jack", police say, is believed to have invaded the girl's room in an effort to secure the letters which were found under the pillow of the bed on which her body was lying.

Mrs. Suttle was said to have been carrying on a clandestine correspondence with an unidentified admirer who had called on and talked to her several times in the last few days.

BALDWIN IS TO VISIT POINCARE

Decides on Informal Reparations Discussion After His Vacation Ends.

TO STOP ON HIS WAY HOME

Curzon, Also Resting in France, is Expected to Join Conference. Belgian Note is Awaited.

London, Aug. 24.—Recognizing the futility of a further exchange of lengthy notes on the repaartion issue, Prime Minister Baldwin has decided to meet Premier Poincare, it became known Thursday. The meeting will take place in Paris, it is understood, after Mr. Baldwin's vacation in Aix Les Bains.

The British premier will not ask the French premier formally for an appointment, but will make known through second parties his readiness to discuss the whole reparation problem in the light of the French premier's latest note.

The British premier feels that while in France, he should profit by the suggestions contained at the end of Mr. Poincare's note, that France is ready to discuss the indemnity problem orally. It is probable Lord Curzon, the secretary for foreign affairs, may participate in the conference, as he intends to remain for some time in Bagnolles, where he is recuperating.

Both Aix les Bains and Bagnolles are within easy train distance of Paris, and both British cabinet ministers readily could stop off for a few days in the French capital on their way to London and have an earnest talk with Premier Poincare.

It is felt there is no immediate need of such an oral exchange of views and, in fact, that it would be preferable to postpone it until the British government experts charged with the study of reparations questions have examined carefully all the clauses of the French note and have presented their findings to the cabinet.

The meeting therefore, in all likelihood, will take place after Mr. Baldwin has had his vacation and has the matured judgment of the cabinet before him.

Prime Minister Baldwin returned to London from the country Wednesday night and took a preliminary look at the French note. Time will be allowed to the ministers to consider the arguments of Premier Poincare before any formal cabinet discussion takes place.

Before his departure with Mrs. Baldwin Saturday for Aix les Bains, Premier Baldwin will discuss the Poincare note with such cabinet members as remain in town. For the present he declines to commit himself on the French note until the whole of that complicated document has been examined thoroughly.

British treasury officials who examined the financial features of the reply said the French figures were wholly inadequate. They drew the inference that France, after collecting her own irreducible 26,000,000,000 gold marks out of the class A and B reparation bonds, to cover the property devastation in the war zone, intended to pay her debts to the allies and the United States out of the class C bonds, which generally are regarded here as of little more value than waste paper.

The Belgian note, which British officials hope will have a modifying effect on the rigidity of the French claims and will be of a more generous character than the Poincare argument probably will arrive here Monday and will be sent forthwith to Premier Baldwin and Foreign Secretary Curzon in France.

SAYS DRY LAW FAILS

Finnish Parliament Points to Failure of Prohibition.

Copenhagen, Aug. 24.—M. Schaumann, a member of the Finnish parliament, in a speech before the anti-alcoholic congress today, declared the consumption of alcohol in Finland at the present time was about the same as before prohibition was inaugurated. Conditions were growing worse in spite of increased penalties, and all classes violated the law, he said, particularly the young people.

"The experiment of prohibition in Finland is a downright failure" he concluded, "and also a serious danger to everybody's feeling of justice. The Finnish prohibition law has seriously damaged the excellent cause of abstinence."

MANY GO TO FAIR

Many residents of Gettysburg attended the second evening session of the Farmers' Fair, being held near Abbottstown, on Thursday. Fully 2,000 automobiles were parked in a large field adjoining the grove owned by the Association, which is holding the fair, and an estimate of the crowd placed the total at between 5,000 and 7,000 persons.

try as well as the city is due to the lack of proper social recreation.

So, continues the report, he hit upon the idea of the Little Country Theatre at the college. His students came from countries where folk-lore and "play acting" are a natural part of every day life—Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Iceland, Scotland, Ireland. They worked as hard at building up entertainments in the state as ever they worked at raising wheat. They wrote plays, made scenery, organized a package library of all kinds of entertainments to send out over the state, produced some of the finest old plays ever written and toured with them through forty towns, and during the summers they went home to their own communities and put on plays in barn lofts.

It meant hard work, because three times a week after a hard day's work and the evening chores were done they cranked the cars and went to rehearsal. But it meant cooperation, self-expression; it took the theatre to the country boy and girl and adapted it to their use. The idea grew until the young people of that state are giving great pageants of the history of the Land of the Dacotahs, interpreting the life of the people of the state that is the life of genuine American country folks. Their message went abroad and soon it lived again in the heart of the hills of West Virginia and the small towns of New York and Ohio.

In New York state annually since 1919 the students of Cornell University have been going to the state fair to put on plays of interest to country folks. Tht Fair Commission furnished a bare, white-washed room of an exhibit building and the students did the rest. They played to 6000 people the first week while the horse races were on and the Midway tried its best to lure the crowd. Grangers, teachers, preachers, well-to-do farmers, plain country folks were there every day, looking and listening so hard they forgot to laugh until the joke was over. Zona Gale's "Neighbors" was the big hit and no one there will ever forget the row of old ladies down front who wept when Grandma prayed right up on the stage, "Oh, make us busy, busy right up to the time the hearse backs up to the door."

Farmers believe in being busy. The farmers of Franklin county are going the New York folks one better. They are going to put on their own plays at the Franklin County Fair. Five rural communities are going to put on plays in competition and the big tent that will be called the Rural Community Playhouse, it is said, will be the most popular spot at the fair. And the movement once started is never going to stop, they declare, for its meaning is community cooperation. "I was in it." "My John took part." "I made the scenery." "I made the pink dress Mary wore." In short, "I helped." That is going to be the secret of the success of the Playhouse, it is felt, with its message of finding true expression for people in the communities in which they live.

way east and west and roads north and south of town are being patrolled regularly by the State officers, and the fear of fines or jail sentences apparently is keeping the bootleggers off Adams county soil.

Bail put up by persons arrested in Adams county since the last session of court is estimated at close to $10,000. Court next week will determine how much of this will be forfeited to the county.

While State Police of the Gettysburg substation have been particularly successful in rounding up bootleggers and others possessing intoxicating liquors illegally, figures on the activities of the State troopers in Pennsylvania during the last six months are revelations.

The State officers have seized over a half mililon dollars' worth of liquors and 174 motor vehicles alleged to have been illegally transporting liquor.

This is the biggest lot of rum taken in any similar period and represents a far flung line of work. The report of Superintendent Lynn G. Adams shows that twenty breweries were closed during the six months' period and 11,780 quarts of bonded whiskey and 18,350 quarts of moonshine liquor were confiscated. The police destroyed 1,209 barrels of mash. Beside the motor vehicles taken, the police also confiscated three horses, one carriage and a sleigh used, it was charged, for illegally transporting liquor.

Arrests made during the six months for violation of the liquor laws totaled 2,361. The largest number in any month was in March, when 545 persons were apprehended. In May 306 arrests were made, the smallest number in any one of the six months.

There were 504 stills, 2,281 gallons of alcohol, 11,114 gallons of wine, 5,630 bottles of Jamaica ginger, and 17,767 barrels of beer beside many other kinds of intoxicating liquors seized during the period covered by the report.

THE ROMANCE OF WORDS

"MAVERICK"

USED on the Western plains as a term for unbranded or ownerless cattle, the term "maverick" owes its birth to a man named Sam Maverick, a native of Massachusetts who settled in Texas in the middle of the last century and entered the business of stock-raising.

Because he believed in the honesty of his neighbors and also because, on humanitarian grounds, he did not approve of branding his cattle with a red-hot iron, the calves born on the Maverick ranch were allowed to run wild and unbranded. As a result, the less honest cattlemen would add these animals to their own herds, placing their distinguishing mark upon the flank in the approved manner. In time the expression became current "Unbranded? It must belong to Maverick," and the term spread throughout the cattle country, gradually extending its meaning until it was used to signify anyone who refused to recognize a master, a man who was broad in his views and owed allegiance to no one.

Impoverished by the lack of care of his cattle, Maverick died a number of years ago—but his name usually appears at least once in every Western story which has any claims to atmosphere.

A BACK-BREAKING JOB

The BROWN MOUSE

by Herbert Quick

COPYRIGHT BY THE BOBBS-MERRILL COMPANY

"Good night," replied Jennie, and sat for a long time wondering just how deeply she had unintentionally wounded the feelings of her father's field-hand; deciding that if he was driven from her forever, it would solve the problem of terminating that old childish love affair which still persisted in occupying a suite of rooms all of its own in her memory; and finally repenting of the unpremeditated thrust which might easily have hurt too deeply so sensitive a man as Jim Irwin. But girls are not usually so made as to feel any very bitter remorse for their male victims, and so Jennie slept very well that night.

Jim Irwin was bony and rugged and homely, with a big mouth, and wide ears, and a form stooped with labor. He had fine, lambent, gentle eyes which lighted up his face when he smiled. He was not ugly. Jim Irwin possessed charm. That is why little Jennie Woodruff had asked him to help with her lessons, rather oftener than was necessary, in those old days in the Woodruff schoolhouse when Jennie wore her hair down her back.

But in spite of this homely charm of personality, Jim Irwin was set off from his fellows of the Woodruff neighborhood. He was different. In local parlance, he was an off ox. He was as odd as Dick's hatband. He ran in a gang by himself. He had always liked to read, and had piles of literature in his attic room which was good, because it was cheap.

Very few people know that cheap literature is very likely to be good, because it is old and unprotected by copyright. Jim had Emerson, Thoreau, an Encyclopedia of English Literature, some editions of standard poets in paper covers, and a few Ruskins and Carlyles—all read to rags.

In fact, Jim had a good library of publications which can be obtained gratis, or very cheaply—and he knew their contents. He had a personal philosophy, which while it had cost him the world in which his fellows lived, had given him one of his own, in which he moved as lonely as a cloud, and as untouched of the life about him.

By every test of common life, he was a failure. His family history was a badge of failure. People despised a man who was so incontestably smarter than they, and yet could do no better with himself than to work in the fields alongside the tramps and transients and hoboes. Save for his mother and their cow and garden and flock of fowls and their wretched little rented house, he was a tramp himself.

His duties, his mother, and his dead father's status as an outcast took away his citizenship in Boyville, and drove him in upon himself, and, at first, upon his school books and later upon Emerson, Thoreau, Ruskin and the poets, and the agricultural reports and bulletins.

All this degraded—or exalted—him to the position of an intellectual farmhand, with a sense of superiority and a feeling of degradation. It made Jennie Woodruff's "Humph!" potent to keep him awake that night, and send him to the road work with Colonel Woodruff's team next morning with hot eyes and a hotter heart.

Colonel Woodruff's gray percherons seemed to feel the unrest of their driver, for they fretted and actually executed a clumsy prance as Jim Irwin pulled them up at the end of the turnpike across Bronson's Slew—a peat-marsh which annually offered the men of the Woodruff district the opportunity to hold the male equivalent of a sewing circle while working out their road taxes. Columbus Brown, the pathmaster, prided himself on the Bronson Slew turnpike as his greatest triumph in road engineering. The work consisted in hauling, dragging and carrying gravel out on the low fill which carried the road across the marsh, and then watching it slowly settle until the next summer.

"Haul gravel from the east gravel bed, Jim," called Columbus Brown from the lowest spot in the middle of the turnpike. "Take Newt here to help load."

Jim smiled his habitual slow, gentle smile at Newton Bronson, seventeen, undersized, tobacco-stained, profane and proud of the fact that he had once beaten his way from Des Moines to Faribault on freight trains. A source of anxiety to his father, and the subject of many predictions that he would come to no good end, Newton was out on the road work because he was likely to be of little use on the farm. Clearly, Newton was on the downward road in a double sense—and yet, Jim Irwin rather liked him.

"The fellers have put up a job on you, Jim," volunteered Newton, as they began filling the wagon with gravel.

"Fellers Have Put Up a Job on You, Jim."

"What sort of job?" asked Jim.

"They're nominating you for teacher," replied Newton.

"Since when has the position of teacher been an elective office?" asked Jim.

"Sure, it ain't elective," answered Newton. "But they say that with as many brains as you've got sloshing around loose in the neighborhood, you're a candidate that can break the deadlock in the school board."

Jim shoveled on silently for a while, and by example urged Newton to earn the money credited to his father's assessment for the day's work.

A slide of earth just then brought down a sweet-clover plant growing rankly beside the top of the pit. Jim Irwin pulled it loose from its anchorage, and after looking attentively at the roots, laid the whole plant on the bank for safety.

"What do you want of that weed?" asked Newton.

Jim picked it up and showed him the nodules on its roots—little white knobs, smaller than pinheads.

"Ever hear of the use of nitrates to enrich the soil?"

School Shoes For Boys and Girls That Stand the Hardest Wear

In a few days the school bell will call young America from vacation to the class room. New shoes is one of the most important items to look after. Footwear is needed that will not only make the boy or girl proud to have, but the kind that will stand hard usage. We are well stocked with just this type of shoe—at prices that are most reasonable.

Plan now to call and have your children fitted with shoes at our store. A visit to our newly remodeled business place on Baltimore street will convince you of our ability to serve you well and economically.

SUNSHINE

The boy Scouts, Camp Fire girls and other exponents of the out-of-doors are enjoying benefits of life in the open. They see the things of the world in a new light and understand nature better. They meet friends in the same cause, swap stories and form congenial companionships. Every student of the big out-doors gets new object lessons, makes new resolves and forms new links of character with the day of sunshine.

Sunshine is the test of summer time. It ripens the grain and fruit and gives strength to the camper. All nature has a smiling face when the sun causes the plants to grow, the flowers to open and the fruits to mature. Sunshine induces youth to get out, amid the fields and forests, drink in the pure air and enjoy the healthfulness of exercise in the open.

There are profits in sunshine that one does not always reckon on when planning an outing in the open. It creates beauty and attractiveness and thereby adds to efficiency and usefulness. It helps in fitting one for future work and inculcates a desire for keeping young in order to continue enjoying the playfields of youth. Yes, there are countless benefits to be derived from mingling with the all-outdoors. The sun paints smiles on the cheeks of humanity in unerasible lines.

MINERS ON DEFENSIVE

With President Coolidge inviting both operators and miners to a new conference, and with the operators announcing their willingness to arbitrate every point at issue, including the check-off, the hard coal miners have but one logical thing to do: Arbitrate, says an exchange. The country is not in a mood to permit a suspension of mining over a series of questions which one side is willing to submit to arbitration. By changing their attitude in this respect, the operators have placed the miners on the defensive before public opinion. The sure knowledge that the president will act to the full extent of his powers to prevent a strike, or overcome the effects of a strike, is having a steadying effect upon the country, and it should have a steadying effect upon the miners, particularly their leaders.

ENVY

Time was that a King of the olden days,
Disturbed by his fretful clan,
Sent ministers forth, both south and north,
In search of a happy man.

"Go find me a man with his heart content,
Who maketh no wish for more;
Let the search be had till you find one glad,
One glad with his present store."

"You have health," said they to a woodman tanned,
"And so have your children three;
You are blessed, for that gift is best"—
"I would I were rich," said he.

"You have gold," they said to a man of wealth.
"You can buy what is ever sold."
"Yes," said he, "but I'd happier be
With the strength of the woodman bold."

Then they found them a man with a well-filled purse,
And sturdy and strong was he,
But he said with a sigh: 'No child have I,
But the woodsman there has three."

They searched them high and they searched them low
And back to the king they went,
And they said: "No man in this royal Clan
Sits down by his fire content.

"The woodsman sighs for the rich man's gold,
And the rich man vows that he
Would give his wealth for the woodsman's health,
Or even his children three.

"None thinketh himself by the good Lord blessed,
But counteth his neighbor glad,
And is sure that he would happier be
If the neighbor's joy he had."

"Oh, tell me, then," said the sorrowing king,
"You have traveled the world around,
Did you pass no door of rich or poor
Where envy was not found?"

There is none who knoweth life's joys complete,
For so do God's blessings fall
That all are blessed as He deemeth best,
But none may have them all.

Franklin

Have Broadcasting Station

WAYNESBORO.—A musical program was broadcasted from the laboratory of A. J. Gardenhour, 218 Park street. This is the first radio phone station ever located in Waynesboro, having a range of several hundred miles. Many telephone calls from local fans of the town and vicinity reported the modulation of voice prefect. No regular program of broadcasting has been decided upon as the station is still under test. The music was furnished by Emmert Omwake, playing a banjo, and William Stover, playing a mandolin. Various records of orchestra and classical records were broadcasted. Also baseball scores of the Blue Ridge league were announced several times throughout the program.

Mail Men Hold Picnic

WAYNESBORO.—Twenty-seven people from Waynesboro and vicinity joined with about 200 persons from the postoffices of Franklin county in an outing held recently at Red Bridge park. The Waynesboro postoffice was open all day as usual, but there were no afternoon deliveries. By taking off this delivery the majority of employes was able to leave the office for the picnic. The program at Red Bridge was opened by a short concert by the Quincy band. The band gave several selections in center square here before leaving for Red Bridge. The crowd accompanied the band in singing "America" and the Chambersburg quartet gave several selections. Rev. H. M. Stover made the invocation preceding the program of speakers.

Would Send Girl To France

WAYNESBORO.—J. L. Butterfield, New York, has been in Waynesboro during the past week representing the American committee for devastated France. This committee has been promoting good will elections in the country for some time, using a small part of the money derived from these good will elections for the expenses of such trips. The candidate for the Cumberland Valley is now in the field, this being Miss Louise Burgner, who is in the employ of the Pennsylvania railroad company at the Chambersburg offices. The railroad company is interested in Miss Burgner's candidacy and has been securing votes for her in all towns in the valley south from Harrisburg.

Three Held For Liquor

HAGERSTOWN—Charged with illegally possessing and selling liquor, Victor D. Stockman, Elizabeth A. Stockman, his wife, and Edgar S. Weaver, all of near Harper's Ferry were arraigned before U. S. Commissioner H. Noel Haller, in Frederick, for a preliminary hearing. All entered pleas of not guilty and were held under bond pending trial before the U. S. District Court in Baltimore at the next term. The raid on the premises of the accused was conducted last Saturday afternoon by Deputy Revenue Agent Davidson assisted by 10 other revenue agents. The search warrant was issued by Alexander Hagner, U. S. Commissioner, Hagerstown. The revenue men discoverd about 60 or 70 gallons of moonshine liquor, it was said. The liquor was confiscated on the spot and was poured into the canal The three accused were ordered to report to Hagerstown for a hearing. Owing to the bad condition of the road between Harper's Ferry and Hagerstown, both Commissioner Hagner and the accused were willing to have the case removed to Frederick for the preliminary hearing.

Clubs Are Dinner Guests

HAGERSTOWN—Rotary, Kiwanis and Lions Clubs from Frederick and Winchester, Virginia, and the Mayors and Councilmen from the same cities were the guests of the Potomac Public Service Company at a dinner given at the company's new $2,500,000 plant at Williamsport. Following the dinner the guests were taken through the plant and its mechanism explained to them. Emory L. Coblentz, of Frederick, was the principal speaker. He explained the work of the new plant and the purpose of the company in erecting it. He also welcomed the guests to the plant. Mr. Coblentz was followed by R. G. Williams, an official of the Company, at Winchester. Mr. Williams explained how the plant would serve to promote the growth of nearby Virginia cities. M. F. Riley, president of the company, delivered a brief address on the plant. The visitors expressed great admiration for the new plant. William C. Delaplaine, of Frederick, was awarded the prize given at the dinner.

Aeroplane is Forced Down

HAGERSTOWN—The forced landing of a large Fokker CO-4 United tates Army aeroplane along the Cavetown Pike Tuesday afternoon caused many farmers and persons traveling the roadway to run to the assistance of the pilot when he landed.

The plane was piloted by Captain Kouch, of McCook Field, Dayton, Ohio, and was forced aground on account of a leak in the radiator of the engine. The engine, a Liberty 400 horsepower, carried 18 gallons of water for cooling purposes. The flight from Moundsville, West Virginia, was made to Hagerstown, it was said, in one hour and twenty minutes, a distance of 181 miles. Captain Kouch was given assistance in repairing the engine by Lewis Reisner, local airman, and the pilot remained in Hagerstown as a guest of Mr. Reisner over Tuesday night. He "took off" Wednesday morning for Aberdeen, Maryland.

York

Injured Cyclist Improved

HANOVER.—The condition of Paul Smith, Midway, who was injured when struck by an automobile while riding a bicycle at the intersection of York street and Broadway, is improved, according to the report of his physician. He suffered concussion of the brain and minor injuries.

Hanover Couple To Wed

HANOVER.—A license to wed was granted at York to Miss Cora M. Scheivert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Scheivert, 132 Pleasant street, and Lester Berkheimer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman L. Berkheimer, 133 Penn street. The date of the marriage has not been announced.

On Way Home From England

HANOVER.—Mr. and Mrs. Warkup, West Hanover st., who left Hanover on May 31 and sailed from New York on June 2 for Liverpool, England, were due to arrive on American shores by the Steamship Homeric and are expected here this week. They will have been absent about two and a half months. Mr. Warkup is a chemist employed by J. S. Young & Company.

Held For Grand Jury

HANOVER.—Jesse Reichart, Hanover, who was arrested last Saturday night by Chief of Police Jesse Crabbs on two warrants issued by Justice of the Peace L. D. Sell, was given a hearing Thursday morning at 10 o'clock on both charges. One of the warrants, sworn out by Charles W. Arter, charged him with driving a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor. The other charge was brought by Minnie Baird, who accuses him of a serious offense. After hearing both cases Reichart was held for the August quarter session of court. Attorney J. H. Brenneman, York, represented the defendant.

Frederick

Runaway Boys Found

FREDERICK.—Russell Gibson and Bryon Stull, the two wards of the Children's Aid Society, who recently disappeared from the homes where they had been placed, have both been located by the authorities. Gibson, who is 18 years old and who was graduated from the Frederick High School in June, was making his home with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Krantz, near Frederick. The boy disappeared Thursday night after being visited by an uncle, Roy Gibson, of York, Pa. Miss Nelson, the county probation officer, established communication with Mrs. Alexander Gibson, LeGore, the grandmother of young Gibson, and through her found that the boy is with his uncle in York. The uncle has been notified to bring Gibson back to Frederick so that some arrangements can be made for his future. Bryon Stull, the other boy, who was missing, was found working on a Frederick county farm. Stull had been making his home with Charles Zimmerman, near Mount Carmel. He became dissatisfied with the amount of wages being paid him and unceremoniously left for a position where he would receive more pay for his services.

Is Charged With Fowl Play

FREDERICK.—Mrs. Emma Engelbrecht, West Fourth street, is scheduled to appear at police headquarters on a warrant charging her with discharging a firearm in the city limits. The trial will be the outgrowth of the death of a rooster owned by John Mohler, North Market street, and whose back yard adjoins the rear of Mrs. Engelbrecht's home. The rooster was shot. Who did it is to be determined at the hearing. Mr. Mohler says the "struttin' fowl," met his death by a rifle bullet, but no one saw the person who made that rooster's career so short, it is said. Milton A. Woodward, father of Mrs. Engelbrecht, complained to the city fathers some time ago that the rooster was very annoying. The rooster had not the slightest appreciation of how necessary it was to obtain sleep. Mr. Woodward said that it was practically impossible to repose in the arms of Morpheus while that rooster was crowing. Mr. Mohler obtained two more roosters and also swore out a warrant charging Mrs. Englebrecht with discharging a firearm in the city limits.

HISTORIC "SHERFY FARM"--FOR SALE

$15,000 Gettysburg, Pa. $15,000

The summer residence of the late Dr. H. L. Diehl, including about 80 acres of good farming land, on the Emmitsburg Road, part of the concrete Gettysburg and Washington Highway, 2 miles south of Gettysburg. This property is located on the historic Gettysburg Battlefield, near Little Round Top. The famous "Peach Orchard" adjoins the farm. The house is known and mentioned in all histories of that famous event. It includes a substantial brick residence, surrounded by magnificent old shade; a 12-foot porch, fully screened, running entire length of two sides. The house consists of 8 rooms, with modern living room and open fireplace and bath with modern sanitary plumbing; kitchen and servant quarters detached. Two-car garage; tenant house for farmer; large barn and all necessary outbuildings; plenty of young fruit trees and grapes in abundance. This property would make an ideal summer home or is suitable for all-year residence, and is being offered for sale for the first time to settle the estate. Ideal for "Tea Room"

STATE NEWS

Fire Razes Packing House

York.—The packing house on the farm of Howard W. Anderson, near Stewartstown, was destroyed by fire, causing a loss of about $5000. About 150 tons of cement were in the building.

Will Dedicate Addition

Lancaster.—The new addition to St. Joseph's Hospital will be dedicated on Monday afternoon. It will be presented by D. F. Magee and will be accepted by Richard M. Reilly. The chief address will be delivered by the Right Rev. Philip R. McDevitt, of Harrisburg.

Establish Detour Next Year

Mauch Chunk.—State highway department officials have indicated that, owing to the construction work on the Hazleton-Tamaqua road next summer, a detour will be established there and maintained for the entire season. The road between Mauch Chunk and Hazleton will have to be used and is now being put in condition.

Auto Hits Train; Five Hurt

Chambersburg.—Five persons, a man and wife and three sons, are in the Chambersburg Hospital today suffering from injuries received Tuesday when the automobile in which they were riding was struck by a train at Fort Louden. The injured are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nixdorn, of Rochester, Pa., and Frank Nixdorn, Ernest Nixdron and David Nixdron, their sons.

For Vacation Discomforts

The unaccustomed exercise of vacation-time is apt to make the muscles sore, stiff and painful. Other spoil-sports are sunburn, insect bites and poison oak or poison ivy.

Vicks can be applied to prevent these discomforts and is also a soothing relief. It helps, too, in case of summer colds, hay fever or headache.

Two Ways This and Other Banks in Gettysburg Will Grow

1 Avoid questionable securities, sold by glib-tongued salesmen, which take money out of Adams county never to return. Consult your banker.

2 Buy at home. Patronize Gettysburg's stores and industries. They are here to serve you in time of need. By so doing you will help Adams county's financial standing. Consult your conscience.

OLD FOLKS MADE NEW

"It is now five months since I took a course of your medicine for gas and stomach trouble and I am feeling entirely well. My friends all tell me I am looking twenty years younger and I certainly feel as they say. I am recommending Mayr's Wonderful Remedy to all ailing with stomach and liver trouble." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomch, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded, at Peoples Drug Store, and druggists everywhere.

School Days

Are near and the average boy is counting the days. To some youngsters, the occasion means little in their young lives. To others, the thought of books and study, after an exceedingly happy vacation, is not so welcome.

There's one thing, though, that will strike a happy chord with the boy and that's—a new suit bought here at our place now. It'll give him a certain amount of pride that will take away from any gloomy thoughts he may have about getting back to classes again.

Mothers too, will appreciate our offerings in Worsteds, Homespuns and Serges—all popular styles and of durable quality—which we have priced low.

One-pants suits ..... $5.50 up
Two-pants suits ..... $10.00 up

FREE with each boy's suit a pair of beautifully painted stilts.

Firm, Plump

Flesh!

MANY are the eyes that are turned to gaze with keen admiration on the well developed, healthy girl no matter where she may be—on the rapidly moving thoroughfare or gliding gracefully over the dance floor.

All eyes turn because we all appreciate the girl with the figure so firm and plump—the girl with radiantly red cheeks, cheeks that carry a touch of roses from nature's own garden——the girl with the sparkling eyes, keen and sharp—the girl with buoyancy and the swing of youth.

Not necessarily an out-of-doors girl. Just a girl with ever increasing blood cells. Just a girl filled with the vim and vigor of youth.

S. S. S., since 1826, has stood for increased blood cells. S. S. S. means restored strength—rekindled vitality—added energy. Take S. S. S. and watch the bloom of youth return to your cheeks. Watch that flabby, ill nourished flesh fade away before flesh that is firm and plump. Red blood cells will do it and S. S. S. will build them. It contains only pure vegetable ingredients. S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores. The large size bottle is more economical.

Peace of Mind For the Farmer

Borrowing money for a short perid often causes worry. The mortgage past due or coming due may disturb your sleep at night.

The Government plan of loaning money to farmers for 33 yrs. payable in 1% installments, helps to put the farmer's mind at ease. We will be glad to help the farmers procure money under this plan.
